

REAL-LIFE DRINKIN'

So you want to turn the game up a notch with your friends? Here are optional rules to turn your Mörk Billy game into a real-life drinking game.

It's a rumor around these parts that sharing a drink with friends can help you get through most anything life throws at you. So grab those beers! Grab that whiskey! Grab that shine and let's get going!

Here's how this works. If you're in a pickle, or a tight spot, you can take a shot or gulp of your drink. Seems pretty simple, right? Your table decides what is hard enough for y'all. Could be pickle juice to moonshine.

Well that's good for advantage on your next roll! Take 2d20 and pick the highest roll.

Also, I'm not going to tell you how to drink your drink, make things up as you go along... I'm not your Maw or Paw! But, don't go doin' some fool thing and drinkin' too much.
